German legislation

- EU directive on mediation (international conflicts)
- Mediationsgesetz (law on mediation)
- Regulation about certified mediators and their training
- Evaluation of the legal situation and the market issues

Certified Mediator

- 120 hours training
- One case with supervision
- Certificate issued by the trainings provider
- „Self-certification“: mediator may call himself certified in case he fulfils the requirements set out in the regulation

Quality of mediation

- Training of 200 hours in mediation
- Substantial part of training in presence
- Examination and certification by third party

Market requirements

- Understanding the process of mediation
 - Persistent working on conflict - tough negotiations
 - Not just love and peace
 - no black box
- Quality of mediator proofed by certificate of neutral third party

Benefit of mediation

- Going to court - you may get your right.
- In a mediation you may get what you need.
